5. Ex memoriam

Time: 00:02:00

Produced by:

AGAVE SA

Summary:

This is the story of a working memory: its resistances, its little noises, its concert, its worthless words. . . On a "Hand's labyrinth," the camera follows a long circuit (memory) and stops by precise hands (instants). We'll never see the whole labyrinth:

memory's representation will stay confused forever.

6. Caustic Sky: A portrait of regional acid deposition

Time: 00:03:45

Produced by:

North Carolina Supercomputing Center (NCSA)

Summary:

The causes of sulfuric acid deposition in the Eastern US and Canada are shown graphically using data generated from the US EPA's Regional Acid Deposition Model (RADM). The data are shown with representation methods such as volume rendering, isosurface generation and sonification.

13. Fire and Air

Time: 00:00:32

Produced by:

OSTRA DELTA

Summary:

This opening animation was created for the Spanish Pavilion World Expo '92. The piece begins with the formation of the plaza. Particles flow, like the active streets of cars and people, towards the center of the plaza, the center of the fiesta. The dance is in the fire. The fire is the sun. From the fiery sun, fireworks erupt to form the symbol of the Spanish Pavilion. All of these elements combine to create an animated vision of the spirit of Spain.

Particle system software and specialized programs were utilized to create the natural, flowing, intricate movement.

15. Sound Rendering

Time: 00:01:10

Produced by:

George Washington University

Summary:

The animations were created using a new technique to generate and synchronize sound. A sound world is modeled by associating a characteristic sound for each object in a scene and then rendered by tracing the propagation paths from these 3D objects to each microphone.

28. Shield Soap

Time: 00:00:30

Produced by:

MetroLight Studios

Summary:

A bathroom comes to life to the sound of calypso music, thanks to computer-animated transformations. A shower head becomes a bugle, faucet handles become hands, a bath brush becomes a maraca, geometric shapes fly off of a shower curtain and soap bubble notes dance on a bar of Shield.
