Course Lecturer Bios

Ken Anderson is a member of the Developer Support Group at Adobe Systems; he teaches advanced courses on the PostScript language and assists third party software developers in enhancing their applications to support the PostScript language. Ken has been involved with Display PostScript in both the DECwindows and NeXT environments and has a background in compiler and operating system programming.

Linda Gass is the Manager of Display PostScript development at Adobe Systems Incorporated. She has been with Adobe for 7 years and prior to her involvement with the Display PostScript project, she worked on various font development tools and is a co-author of the PostScript Language Tutorial and Cookbook. Linda received her Master's in Computer Engineering and her Bachelor's in Mathematical Sciences from Stanford University and has interned at Xerox PARC.

Leo Hourvitz is the head of the graphics group at NeXT, Inc., where he has been involved in the design of Display PostScript and the NeXT computer system for four and a half years. Previous to working at NeXT, Leo worked in the Macintosh software group at Apple Computer. He is a graduate of the MIT Architecture Machine Group and the University of Michigan.

John Sherman is the Director of Design in the Department of Art, Art History & Design at the University of Notre Dame. Previously he has taught graphic design at Louisiana State University and the University of Illinois Urbana/Champaign. John received his Master of Fine Arts in Graphic Design from Indiana University.
